ATTENTION EMPLOYEES:

We have already done the math. It's cheaper and cleaner to “Ride the Bus” to work. Currently, gasoline averages about $4.15 per gallon. A weekly fill-up for a 13-gallon tank is $54 and climbs to $215 by the end of the month.

A Metro bus pass costs $75 a month. Do the math for yourself and you will see the cost benefits of “Riding the Bus” to work. And, this does not factor in the reduced stress from dealing with traffic.

Do you live outside the County of Los Angeles? No problem. The Antelope Valley Transit Authority provides service to Los Angeles and the Civic Center.

Omnitrans and Foothill Transit make it possible for San Bernardino County residents, who commute to Los Angeles, to “Ride the Bus” to work.

Orange County Transportation Authority has over 75 different routes and many of them go beyond the borders of Orange County. The Riverside Transit Agency offers bus service to its Downtown Metrolink Station. In short, you CAN “Ride the Bus” to work while saving money and reducing stress.

After all,

Clean Air is Everybody's Business!!
